Results of Powell Case in Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here at a glance are results of Wednesday's House action barring Adam Clayton Powell from Congress.

What happened: By a vote of 307 to 116, the House barred him from the New York 18th District seat to which he was elected last November.

Powell's status: He is out of the House, his $30,000 annual salary stops, his office suite will have to be vacated, his staff is off the payroll.

The vacancy: A special election will be held to fill the seat, and Powell might again be elected, thrusting the issue back before the House. Powell's lawyers might file a federal court suit to overthrow the action.

The end result: Rep. Emanuel Celler — "it will come back to haunt the House," Rep. Thomas Curtis — "If Powell is re-elected, 'he'll get the same thing again,'"

House Wants to Adjourn on Time

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Majority Leader Marion Crank said Wednesday the executive committee of the Democratic caucus of the Arkansas House had recommended that every effort be made to complete the legislature's business by the March 9 adjournment date.

Crank said Speaker Sterling R. Cockrill Jr. of Little Rock had indicated the House schedule would be altered in the last week of the session so that as many bills as possible could be considered.

The legislature has prepared for an extended session.

Says Survival Reason U.S. in Vietnam

MAGNOLIA, Ark. (AP) — Former Gov. Sid McMath said Wednesday night that survival is the basic reason the United States is in Vietnam.

McMath said that American citizens need to be told that U. S. troops are in Vietnam to contain Red China such as Red China was contained in Korea.

McMath, addressing the Young Democrats Club at Southern State College, here, said President Johnson should also tell the people two reasons why the nation is in the conflict — to help a small country and to protect U. S. security.

During a question and answer session, McMath said that he believed it would be a serious mistake for the U. S. to get out of Vietnam unilaterally at this time.

McMath recently toured Vietnam.

Search in Natchez Continues

By BILL NEIKIRK

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — Federal and state officers today pressed for links in the bomb blast that killed Wharlest Jackson, a Natchez civil rights leader.

Federal bomb experts, under the direction of Mississippi's ranking FBI special agent, Roy K. Moore, awaited preliminary findings from their crime laboratory.

Jackson died when a bomb ripped through his pickup truck Monday night as he drove home from his job at the Armstrong Rubber Co. plant here.

Charles Evers, state field director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, promised continued protests until Jackson's funeral is held Sunday.

Jackson, 36, father of five, worked at the Armstrong plant for 12 years. He will be buried Monday in the National Cemetery here.

Evers called for a boycott of downtown merchants and a march on the courthouse Saturday in memory of Jackson, one-time treasurer of the NAACP.

Red Casualties Girl Scouts Selling Cookies Increasing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says Communist casualties in Vietnam have increased 40 to 50 per cent in the past three months because of intensified U.S. military action.

But he implied to newsmen Wednesday that new types of U.S. warfare in Vietnam — including mining of key North Vietnam rivers and ground and sea artillery bombardment of the North — do not represent an escalation of American efforts.

He said the moves resulted largely from a cutback in bombing because of bad weather.

He offered the Communist casualties only in percentages, not specific figures.

The House is set to vote today on a bill providing $4.5 billion more for the intensified military effort this fiscal year. Little opposition is expected.

The Senate passed a similar measure 89 to 2 Wednesday after hotly debating an amendment that urged no further expansion of the war while backing President Johnson's efforts to negotiate for peace.

House debate on the military authorization bill is expected to be limited. But Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the House Armed Services Committee announced in advance he'll try to tack on $15 million to furnish the Marine Corps aircraft equipped with radar-jamming devices.

Both the Senate and House versions would authorize funds for additional weapons and supplies to carry out the war.

These Girl Scouts got together to tape spot announcements for the radio about Girl Scout cookies. Orders are being taken from now until March 4 and deliveries will be in April.

HONOLULU (AP) — Ryan O'Neal and Leigh Taylor-Young, costars of the television series "Peyton Place," were married in a four-minute ceremony Tuesday night in Honolulu.

The bride, 22, wore a floor-length blue muumuu with pink flowers, the bridegroom, 25, gray trousers and blue sports coat.

Both also wore flower leis.

It was the bride's first marriage, O'Neal's second.

First Lady Says Luci Pregnant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The First Lady says daughter Luci is pregnant.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson bubbled Wednesday at a Capitol luncheon about her pending grandmotherhood in May or June. Her press secretary later confirmed the remarks.

So far, neither Luci, 19, nor her husband, Patrick J. Nugent, has confirmed the expected birth of their first child. They live in Austin, Texas. They were married Aug. 6, 1966.

Mrs. Johnson broke the news in chit-chat at a luncheon given by Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., for about 20 women including Cabinet and Senate wives.

The grandchild would be President and Mrs. Johnson's first.

Nugent works for the Johnson family-owned broadcasting firm in Austin and has been attending the University of Texas.

Earlier Wednesday the White House denied a report that the top floor of Holy Cross Hospital in Austin would be used for the expected birth.

Until Mrs. Johnson broke the news the White House had consistently refused comment on whether Luci was expecting.

HELEN HELP US!

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help US!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to Helen Help US!, this newspaper.

IS IT AS BAD AS IT SEEMS?
 Dear Helen: I think I am going to have a nervous breakdown. I don't know if 14-year-olds have them or not, but all these little problems pile up inside me to a gigantic mountain.

We have a large house and between cleaning and baby sitting for my mother, I don't get out of it much. Last summer I got to go swimming twice. I've been out in the evenings three times since school started, once to a church party, once to a movie and once to my girl friend's house. People have stopped inviting me because I am always too busy at home. I have to clean house, help cook, do dishes, wash, iron, etc.

My older brother worked last summer and made $600. I learned $30 selling cards, and spent every bit of it on birthday gifts for the family. My brother spent his on himself and Mom bought HIS gifts to the family. My parents bought HIM about $50 worth of stuff for his birthday and they gave me $5.00 for mine. I got my Mom a real nice gift and nobody else did, and all I got was a tiny little "Thank you" (cause she didn't want to make my brother feel bad). I don't care about getting gifts that much, but I just wanted to give you an example. It's always like this. I even have to clean up my brother's room and it's like a tornado had struck. He knows I'm stuck with cleaning so he really works at getting it mess-sy. Whenever I ask to go out, my folks say, "You want to go all the time— we never went anywhere when we were kids." I'm so sick of that I don't ask anymore. Do you blame me for going batty?—DESPARATE

Dear Desperate: Your brother seems to have the lion's share of everything but work. And since when must a sister clean up her brother's room? That's expecting too much of a girl who already has it rough. If your parents don't let up and let you be young, they may be paying your doctor bills soon.—H.

Dear Helen: My mother and I are very close. She's young and pretty and all the kids are envious of me because we're almost like sisters. I can talk to her about anything, except kissing boys. I'd tell her about that except I'm afraid she might be hurt. You see, she has told me she never kissed a boy until she got engaged to my father at 15. She is by no means an old foggy. She's just perfect. I'd love to tell her that I don't think it's wrong for a nice boy to kiss me goodnight, nothing more, but will she be disappointed in me?—S.H.M.

Dear S: I'm quite sure she already knows nice boys kiss you goodnight. Why don't you leave this column by her breakfast plate, and then you can smile about it together?—H.

Dear Helen: This boy I almost love is going in the Army next month. I won't want to think of him getting killed in Viet Nam, so I'm going to break off with him—I can't stand the worry. Would he understand? It's really because I care too much and couldn't bear hearing the worst.—K. T.

Dear K: I doubt that a jungle fighter would understand a girl who "cares" so much she breaks up with him to save herself from worry. (But he's lucky to lose a fine little morale builder like you!)—H.

Dear Helen: I am 11 and want very much to be a child actress. I can sing and act very well (I think), but better in my room with the door shut than with people. I take speech and dramatic art at private school and sometimes I have stage fright. Would this keep me from success?—H.N.

Dear H: Almost every famous star has stage fright—before every performance. Keep studying, keep acting, keep your ambition burning, and try out each time the little theater in your town has a child's part. Good Luck!—H.

Use Mildest Shampoo

The process of straightening causes hair to become delicate, even more so than bleaching. For that reason it should be treated to the mildest shampoo possible. Be sure to rinse hair thoroughly and always use warm (never hot) water and set hair while it is still wet, using the largest rollers possible.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
 AP Television-Radio Writer
 NEW YORK (AP) — CBS news division took its cameras into a crumbling old tenement in a segregated slum on Chicago's South Side, and then let the pictures and the tenants tell what life is like under such circumstances.

From beginning to end it was painful. Nine families, some with 9 and 10 children, were crowded into a few rooms. Only two families had fathers existing on welfare. The plaster on the walls was crumbling. Rotting garbage littered the back yard.

Few of the tenants had jobs. Most did not have enough to feed or clothe the children decently. Jobs for the unskilled were hard, if not impossible, to find. Worst of all was the resignation shown by these people, and the lifeless, almost impersonal way many of them told of giving up hope that things would be better.

Running through the Tuesday night hour, as the program moved from hot summer to cold winter, was a report on the progress of wreckers tearing down all buildings in the slum to make way for a housing project. As far as those unfortunate were concerned that just meant another hunt to find another crumbling tenement into which to move.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Once there were three Latin lovers of the silent screen. Now only one remains: Ramon Navarro.

The greatest of them all was Rudolph Valentino, the Italian who swept damsels off their high-button shoes in such films as "Blood and Sand," "The Eagle," "The Sheik" and "Son of the Sheik." His death at 31 in 1926 was followed by one of the most riotous funerals in American history.

"Antonio I knew, but not too well. We used to meet every year at a dinner party given on Dec. 15 by some friends of ours. We always had a good time together, but we were never close friends."

The varying styles of the three Latins?

"I'd say Valentino was more of the sexy type," Navarro ana-lyzed. "Antonio was always very much the gentleman. As for myself, my style was ro-mantic comedy."

Navarro, gray-haired but still handsome, left no doubt that he favored his own era in films: over the present one.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

What to Do and Not Do When Arteries Harden

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Is there any effective treatment for hardening of the arteries in a person who is 78?

A—Although there is no cure for damage that has already occurred, much can be done to retard the progress of this disease. Smoking and the use of amphetamine (pep pills) should be avoided. It is important to avoid overweight or, if already overweight, to reduce. Drugs that help the arteries to dilate, although they will not affect arteries that have already hardened, will improve the total circulation. Nylidrin is one of the best of these but there are many others. Moderate exercise and avoidance of nervous tension are also essential. As a last resort one of several surgical procedures may be used to re-establish the circulation in areas where it is seriously impaired.

Q—What is arteriosclerosis with ventricular hypertrophy? Is it serious?

A—Arteriosclerosis is hardening of the arteries and ventricular hypertrophy is enlargement of the ventricles (the main body) of the heart. The seriousness of these conditions increases as the disease progresses and as the arterial hardening involves such vital areas as the heart muscle (coronary heart disease) or the brain.

Q—What is atherosclerosis? A—This is a term that many doctors prefer to arteriosclerosis.

Q—I read that eating too many eggs could cause hardening of the arteries in persons who are past 40. Is this true?

A—Although the amount of cholesterol in eggs is relatively high, it is a mistake to think of cholesterol as a poison. It is an essential constituent of all nervous tissue. Some authorities recommend limiting the intake of eggs to three or four a week. The important thing, however, is not how many eggs you eat but whether your blood cholesterol level is within normal limits (150 to 280 and preferably

WIN AT BRIDGE

How Falsecards Can Backfire

Margaret Wagar of Atlanta has been one of the best bridge players in the world for quite awhile. When she first appeared on the bridge scene no one realized that this pretty girl with the Southern accent could play the cards just about perfectly. That is, no one realized it until about the second time they played against her.

Here is a hand that she played against a couple of Eastern experts back in those days.

She won the first spade in dummy and played dummy's king of diamonds. East played the deuce and West the five. A second diamond was led from dummy and East played the ten. This is a standard false card play against a poor declarer. In theory it is only poor a declarer who tries to drop a singleton queen with this card combination and the ten spot play is meant to imply that the man who plays it either has no more or the queen. If he has no more, declarer must lose a trick but if

A-State Is 10th in AP Cage Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southern Illinois, over its toughest late-season hurdle on the way toward New York's National Invitation Tournament, maintained an apparently insurmountable lead in The Associated Press' small-college basketball poll today.

The Salukis drew 13 first-place votes and 157 points in the balloting by a national panel of 16 sports writers and broadcasters. The Salukis, recently named to the NIT, beat second-ranked Kentucky Wesleyan 52-46 last week for a 19-2 record.

The small-college leaders completed their regular season Wednesday night by defeating Springfield, Mo., 93-66. Kentucky Wesleyan held second place in the latest poll based on games through last Saturday. There were no changes in the next three positions as Lincoln of Missouri remained in the No. 3 spot followed by Cheyney State and Indiana State.

San Diego State, winner over San Fernando Valley State and Los Angeles State for a 21-4 mark, climbed three places to sixth.

Akron slipped one notch to seventh after losing to Winston-Salem State. Southwest Missouri held the No. 8 slot, and Grambling fell two places to ninth, the result of setbacks by Arkansas AM&N and Alcorn.

Arkansas State is the only new team in the rankings, advancing to 10th place and replacing Howard Payne. Arkansas State collected 28 points on the usual basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, 9 for second etc.

Howard Payne had two votes for first-place, but managed only 26 points after losing to Stephen F. Austin and Sam Houston.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points on a 10-9-etc. basis:

1. South. Illinois (13) 157
2. Kentucky Wesleyan 113
3. Lincoln, Mo. 91
4. Cheyney State 77
5. Indiana State 67
6. San Diego State 60
7. Akron 57
8. Southwest Missouri 45
9. Grambling 37
10. Arkansas State (1) 28

Greenbrier Moves Along in B Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Defending champion Greenbrier and Alpena collide at 9:30 p.m. today in the feature game of the Class B senior boys state basketball tournament.

Two other quarterfinal games are also set with Cotter meeting Oil Trough at 2 p.m. and Bradley taking on Weiner at 6:30 p.m.

Taylor moved into the semifinals Wednesday by blasting highly regarded Palestine 87-62 while Greenbrier and Alpena posted first round victories.

Greenbrier defeated Turrell 64-52 and Alpena defeated Kingsland 75-58.

Ray Whitehead's 28 points carried Taylor, now 34-4, over Palestine. Frankie Jones had 17 points for Palestine, 35-3 for the year.

Greenbrier registered its 44th victory in 46 games as Bruce Vann scored 23 points and Tommy Watson 14. Lonnie White of Turrell added 15 points.

Gary Grisham and Bill Roberts tallied 21 points each for Alpena and Raymond Hayne had 13 for Kingsland.

Phillips Joins the Chargers

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A. O. (Bum) Phillips is the new defensive line coach of the American Football League's San Diego Chargers.

Phillips, 43, coached at the University of Houston the past two seasons. He replaces Walt Hackett, who resigned last month.

Sloan Didn't Disappoint Home Folks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It was just as though Jerry Sloan never left.

Sloan, a second-year pro with the Chicago Bulls who helped lead Evansville, Ind., to two straight NCAA College Division basketball championships, performed before the home folks again Tuesday night, and he didn't disappoint them.

Sloan scored 22 points and grabbed 15 rebounds in leading the Bulls past the Philadelphia 76ers 129-122.

In other games on the full National Basketball Association slate, Boston topped San Francisco 127-125, Cincinnati held off Los Angeles 122-116, Baltimore beat St. Louis 122-112 and Detroit trounced New York 118-101.

Chicago, which out rebounded the 76ers 72-46, went ahead to stay 82-80 on Sloan's lay-up with 2:45 left in the third period.

John Havlicek poured through 27 of his 36 points and Don Nelson got 16 of his 20 in the second half for the Celtics against San Francisco at Boston.

Havlicek hit five straight field goals as Boston moved to an 86-78 lead in the third period. Then after the Warriors moved to within two points, Nelson connected on four field goals and two free throws to put the game out of reach.

Cincinnati, getting 25 points from Oscar Robertson, 23 from Happy Hairston and 20 from Jerry Lucas, blew a 17-point lead but held on for its home-court victory.

Elgin Baylor led Los Angeles with 30 points and Gail Goodrich got 27. The Lakers played without Jerry West, who was in West Virginia because of the death of his father.

Baltimore withstood a 42-point first quarter by visiting St. Louis for its victory. John Barnhill scored 27 points Ray Scott 25 and rookie Jack Marin 24 for the winners. Zelmo Beatty got 24 for St. Louis.

Tom Van Arsdale put in five straight baskets in the second quarter as the Pistons built up a 60-44 halftime lead at Detroit.

Dave Bing led Detroit with 23 points. Willis Reed topped New York with 22.

Greasy Neale Named to Hall of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Earl (Greasy) Neale, one of the game's great innovators in his career as college and professional coach, and nine former players have been named to the National Football Hall of Fame for 1967.

Chester J. LaRoche, president of the National Football Foundation, in making the announcement Thursday, said the electees would be inducted at the 10th annual Awards Banquet Dec. 5.

The players honored include six linemen and three backs. They are: Slade Cutter, Navy tackle; Nathan Dougherty, Tennessee guard; Joel Hunt, Texas A&M back; Wear Schoonover, Arkansas end; Paul Schwegler, Washington tackle; Herb Stein, Pittsburgh center; Francis (Whitey) Wistert, Michigan tackle; Cecil Isbell, Purdue back; and Abe Mickal, Louisiana State back.

LaRoche said the Hall of Famers were chosen not only because of football performance but for good leadership and citizenship.

Illinois Is Trying to Keep Coach

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The University of Illinois opens its fight for retention of three coaches today in an appeal before the Big Ten's governing body of faculty representatives.

The appeal will be presented by University President Dr. David D. Henry, Illinois' faculty representative and acting athletic director, Leslie Bryan, and the university's legal counsel, James Costello.

The faculty representatives may act quickly or, more probable, make deliberate, painstaking study that could prolong their decision until Friday or Saturday.

Conference athletic directors last week ordered Illinois to fire football Coach Pete Elliott, basketball Coach Harry Combes and his assistant, Howard Braun, or show cause why the university should not be suspended or expelled from the Big Ten.

This action, described by Dr. Henry as "too harsh," opened the avenue of appeal in which the university must show cause why it should remain a conference member if it doesn't dismiss the coaches.

The coaches were involved in irregular payments to athletes from a $21,000 petty fund administered outside the university.

When the fund was revealed in December, the university blew the whistle on itself, placing Elliott and Combes on one year probation and ruling ineligible seven football and five basketball players.

The eligibility of the athletes also will be embodied in the appeal.

Cager Over 7 Feet and Still Growing

By TOM SEPPY
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — In the tall world of basketball, American University's Arthur Beatty still is a towering figure.

Beatty, a 7-foot-1 junior, is the tallest collegiate player in the East. And the native New Yorker who now calls Washington his home still is growing.

Beatty leads a scrappy Eagles' team against top-seeded Temple into the first Middle Atlantic Conference postseason tournament Friday in Philadelphia. Temple defeated American 61-63 earlier this season.

St. Joseph's and LaSalle, two other Philadelphia teams, will round out the tournament entries, which will determine the league's representative to the NCAA playoffs.

American University's basketball fortunes began to rise after Beatty entered the school. As a freshman, Beatty showed little, averaging less than nine points and five rebounds a game while often fouling out early.

Just as often he was retired from games because he tired. In his second year, however, American hired a new head coach, Al Kyber, and an assistant, Joe Murphy.

"Coach Kyber and Joe began working with me before every practice session," Beatty said. "We concentrated on position, quickness and several offensive shots. That individual help has made all the difference."

It also made a difference in the team.

Last season, the Eagles doubled the number of victories they earned the previous year and finished with a 8-14 record. They again doubled the number of victories this year and go into the MAC tourney with a 16-7 mark which includes victories over such major colleges as LaSalle and Duquesne.

As the Eagles' statistics have improved, so have Beatty's. In his sophomore year he averaged 15 points and 12.6 rebounds a game.

Currently he is third in the nation in rebounding with a 19.3 average per game and is ranked among the top point-makers in the East with his 22.2 average.

Clay to Train in Houston Extra Week

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay says he plans to train an extra week in Houston before going to New York where he will defend his title March 22 against Zora Foley.

Earlier he had planned to arrive in New York about two weeks before the bout.

The Great Experiment is off to an early start at the New York Yankees' spring training camp. . . and Mickey Mantle already is one up on Dr. Strangelove.

Mantle, determined to make the grade as a first baseman after 15 seasons in the Yankee outfield, jumped the gun Wednesday at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and scooped up about 30 ground balls with the big mitt.

He came through with a perfect fielding average, then scored with a quick quip when asked what type of first baseman's glove he was using.

"It's a Dick Stuart model," replied the 35-year-old slugger without cracking a smile. The reference was to the journeyman first baseman, now with Los Angeles, whose defensive shortcomings earned him the nickname Dr. Strangelove.

Mantle, who wasn't expected to begin working out at first base for several days, persuaded coach Frank Crosetti to tap grounders his way. "I've got to learn sometime," Mantle said.

Afterward, he admitted being a little uncomfortable out there, at first. I kept feeling that everybody in the stands was waiting for me to miss one.

"I want to make it. If I can do it, there'll be all strong arms in the outfield and it could give me a year or two more as a player than I'd have had as an outfielder. I've got eight days and the 30 exhibition games to find out if I can do it."

The Yankees, starting from scratch after last year's cellar finish in the American League, hope Mantle, whose succession of injuries have curtailed his maneuverability and weakened his throwing arm, can master the new position and free slick-fielding Joe Pepitone for center field service.

While Mantle broke in his new glove at the Yankees' camp, Stuart sat out Dodger drills at Vero Beach, Fla., with an ankle injury. Stuart's right ankle, hit by a pitch during batting practice Monday, hemorrhaged Wednesday and the nine-year veteran is expected to be sidelined a few more days.

Major League Expansion Coming Soon

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — The baseball playing population is growing so fast that major league expansion may be only a few years away, says Commissioner William D. Eckert.

"More boys are playing ball than ever before," the commissioner told newsmen Wednesday.

But new clubs will be added "only on a sound basis," Eckert said. He spoke after a spring meeting of the Baseball Executive Council.

"When there are enough players, along with sufficient public demand and enough park facilities, there will be an expansion," Eckert said.

Preliminary plans call for two additional clubs in each league. A dozen cities want in the majors, he said. He did not name them.

Discussing expansion possibilities, the council decided to work increasingly with universities, high schools and amateur organizations to develop more players.

Another flow of players, it was said, comes from Latin America. The commissioner said this influx is increasing rapidly.

The council established two Cy Young Awards. The baseball writers organization will select the best pitcher in each league rather than one for the two as heretofore.

The council asked the baseball scheduling committee to study a request to change the World Series schedule so series would start on Saturdays rather than on Wednesdays.

Soviet Pair Holds Off Young Skaters

VIENNA (AP) — Ludmilla Belousova and Oleg Protopopov proved convincingly that the Fountain of Youth is in Lenin-grad, U.S.S.R.

The Soviet Mr. and Mrs. team — he is 34 and she is 31 — held off a flock of youngsters to win the 1967 World Pairs Figure Skating Championship Wednesday night.

It was their third straight world title and they did it in a near-perfect display of conservative teamwork on ice.

The U.S. brother and sister team of 18-year-old Cynthia and Ronald Kauffman of Seattle, Wash., finished third, the same as they did last year.

The pairs title was the first to be decided here. Tonight the second is at stake — in ice dancing — and defending champions Diana Fowler and Bernard Ford of London are the overwhelming favorites to win again.

The Protopopovs skated cautiously and classically to the music of Tschalkovsky, Liszt, Massenet and Saens-Sand, a sharp comparison to the night before when they went through their compulsory figures to jazz music.

The Protopopovs left second place to Margot Glockshuber, 17, and Wolfgang Danne, 26, of West Germany.

In men and women's competition, the last two of six figures will be completed today.

The women's event is all but wrapped up by defending champion Peggy Fleming of Colorado Springs, Colo. The petite miss has already opened up a 50-point lead over her nearest competitors — Valerie Jones of Toronto, Canada, and 1966 runner-up Gabriele Seyfert of East Germany.

The men's competition is tight history to reach the 50-goal Schwarz a few slim points ahead of his Austrian country-night's hat trick gave him 43 man, Emmerich Danzer, the goals for the season with 15 defending champion.

America's Scott Allen, of Smoke Rise, N.J., is in third place, followed closely by the left wing closes in on his own North American champ Donald goal record, teammate Stan Knight of Canada and the U.S. Mikita is making menacing gestures at Hull's total point mark of 97.

Alcindor Is Leading in Cage Scoring

NEW YORK (AP) — Lew Alcindor of UCLA has taken over the lead in the tightest major college basketball scoring race in the last 15 years.

The 7-foot-1 sophomore star of the No. 1-ranked Bruins moved from fourth place to first by scoring 98 points in two games for a total of 688 and an average of 29.91 a game, according to statistics released today by the NCAA Service Bureau.

The next three scorers also have averages of better than 29 points — Jim Walker of Providence, 29.84; Elvin Hayes of Houston, 29.20; and West Bill Alosuknia of Connecticut, 29.18.

Mal Graham of New York University, last week's leader, scored 68 points in three games and dropped to fifth with a 28.7 average. Graham suffered a recurrence of an ankle injury in a game Monday night and is through for the season.

Alcindor's 61 points against Washington State last Saturday was the most for a major college player since Oscar Robertson scored 62 for Cincinnati against North Texas State in 1960.

Black Hawks Going Along With Hull

Bobby Hull is triple-timing his way towards hockey's 50-goal plateau again and the Chicago Black Hawks are going along for the ride and enjoying every step.

The Hawks, closing in on their first National Hockey League regular season title, upped their first place lead to 13 points over New York with a 6-1 rout of the Rangers Wednesday night as celebrity golf tournament, preliminary to the Doral Open.

In the only other NHL game played, Toronto got a last-minute goal from Jim Pappin to tie Montreal 1-1 and stretch its unbeaten string to nine games.

Hull is the only man in hockey history to reach the 50-goal mark twice and his 54 last year is the NHL record. Wednesday he scored 25 in his last 23 games.

While the Hawks' hot-shooting left wing closes in on his own North American champ Donald goal record, teammate Stan Knight of Canada and the U.S. Mikita is making menacing gestures at Hull's total point mark of 97.

Battle Still on for Big Cage Upsets

That old devil, stall, is back in the news in college basketball today.

In an effort to upset the nationally fifth-ranked Princeton Tigers, Penn held the ball for 11 1/2 minutes at one time before going down to defeat 25-16 Wednesday night. The home court victory gave Princeton the Ivy League championship and a berth in the NCAA championship tourney opening Mar. 11.

Once-beaten Toledo also qualified for the NCAA tournament by beating Ohio University 93-90 to win the Mid-American Conference title. South Carolina upset third-ranked North Carolina 70-57 and eighth-ranked Tennessee was hard pressed to defeat N.C. State 65-62 in overtime.

Southern Illinois, the No. 1 small college team in The Associated Press poll, made it 15 in a row enroute to the NIT postseason tourney by downing Southwest Missouri 93-66, Villanova, also NIT-bound beat Seton Hall 83-65 for its fifth straight and 10th victory in its last 11 games.

However, Syracuse, another NIT-invitee, was upset by Niagara 71-59 and Holy Cross surprised Connecticut, in the NCAA tourney, 70-61. Two other NIT-bound teams split. St. Peter's of New Jersey was upset by Long Island University 69-61 while Rutgers overcame Lehigh 67-55.

"We did it to win," said Dick Harter, the Penn coach, after the Quaker stall in Princeton's Dillon Gym, scene of a similar stall by Dartmouth several weeks ago which the Tigers finally won 30-16.

Penn led at the half 9-8 and it was not until seven minutes had elapsed in the second half that Gary Walters' field goal from the corner put Princeton ahead for good at 16-14.

South Carolina used a deliberate 2-1-2 zone defense to defeat North Carolina at Columbia, S.C. The Gamecocks held the Tar Heels scoreless from the field for 9 1/2 minutes during one span.

Bill Justus' two free throws in the last seven seconds of the extra period assured Tennessee's squeaker over N.C. State at Greensboro. Ron Widby paced the Vols with 23 points in the game that ended 53-53 in regulation time. Joe Serdich led the Wolfpack with 18.

State Champion Cities Are Represented

This community was represented in Little Rock March 1 when the state champion cities in municipal betterment were recognized at the 17th Annual Arkansas Community Development Awards Day ceremonies in Hotel Marion. Five finalist communities in four major activity categories were judged with the winner in each category receiving a check for $1,000.

Sons of Champs Racing Friday at Hialeah

By GENE PLOWDEN
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Nashua or Bold Ruler, two of the best horses ever to run in Florida, may be remembered Friday in the 38th running of the Flamingo Stakes at Hialeah Park.

Each has a son going in the mile and a furlong feature and if either Diplomat Way or Bold Monarch win the closing day feature, it will be the first time a winner sired a winner of this rich race.

Nashua won by 1½ lengths over Saratoga in the 1955 running, and two years later Bold Ruler set the Flamingo Stakes record at 1:47.

Originally, Needles (1956) had Firestitch eligible and Olympia (1949) had North Country, but both dropped out, leaving only sons of Nashua and Bold Ruler among the 11 probable starters in the $100,000-added feature.

Bold Monarch, with Howard Grant in the saddle, was 8-1 and Diplomat Way, under John Sellers, was 20-1 against the powerful entry of Reflected Glory, under Jorge Velasquez, and Reason To Hall, with Bob Usery up. The veteran Hirsch Jacobs trains both horses, owned by his wife, Ethel, and daughter, Patrice, respectively.

Other well-regarded starters include In Reality, under Earle Fires; Gentleman James, with Bill Boland, and Ask The Fare, with Bill Hartack.

Outsiders include Dawn Glory, with Gilberto Vazquez; Kar Stan, with Fernando Toro; Southern Chatter, with no rider assigned, and Mr. Scipio, under Ray Broussard.

The Flamingo is the first major stakes for Derby-age colts in the East and represents the best from 88 nominations. The 11 starters have won a total of 10 stakes races.

Freer Hand for Newsmen in Speck Case

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Newsmen had a slightly freer hand today in covering the trial of Richard Speck the 25 year-old drifter accused of murdering eight student nurses.

The trial judge, Herbert C. Paschen, relaxed his news-coverage restrictions Wednesday, thus complying with an order issued earlier in the day by the Illinois Supreme Court.

Speck's trial, which began Feb. 20, is still in its jury-selection phase and 167 persons have been questioned for possible service.

The first panel of four jurors — two men and two women — was accepted only Wednesday. Two women also were tentatively approved as a start toward completing the second panel.

Judge Paschen's new rules now permit newsmen to obtain transcripts of the proceedings at any time and allow reporting of all events which occur in open court. However, the names of the prospective jurors may not be published until they are either excused or sworn and sequestered.

Prior to the Supreme Court's order, newsmen were not permitted to use transcripts during jury selection. They also were banned from reporting questions and answers in the questioning of prospective jurors.

On the panel accepted Wednesday are a housewife with a teen-age son, a retired contractor, a divorced mother to two young children and an ex-Marine who now is a factory supervisor.

Under oath, all four said they have no fixed opinion against Speck. They also said they are not opposed to the death penalty. The prosecution is asking for capital punishment for Speck.

The members of the panel will be sequestered in a hotel until the trial ends but they will not be sworn until a full jury is selected.

Speck, who appeared to have recovered from a mild attack of gastritis, watched Wednesday's proceedings with apparent interest. He is accused of murdering the eight nurses last July in their Chicago townhouse.

The Supreme Court's order to ease news restrictions came on a 5 to 1 vote.

The dissenter, Justice Walter V. Schafer, wrote in his opinion that he disagreed with both orders of the majority.

The defendant's right to a fair trial, he wrote, is the primary right involved.

"The right to a public trial," he said, "is a right guaranteed to the accused, not to the public."

The Supreme Court acted in response to a suit brought by the Tribune Co., publisher of the Chicago Tribune, which challenged Judge Paschen's restrictions on transcripts, jurors' names and making sketches in the courtroom.

The Supreme Court did not rule on the making of sketches, but set a hearing for oral arguments for March 13.

Harvard Picks Best Actors

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Comedian Bob Hope and Actress Lauren Bacall have been named man and woman of the year by Harvard's Hasty Pudding club.

Hope will receive his award next Wednesday.

Opportunity to Declare War Passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has once more passed up an opportunity to declare war in Vietnam.

Although some senators have called U.S. actions in Vietnam illegal in the absence of a formal war declaration, most remained silent on that point Wednesday when the Senate voted 89 to 2 to provide $4.5 billion more for the fighting.

Parliamentary maneuvering by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield forestalled the possibility the Senate would come to grips with the declaration of war issue through the authorization bill.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., had prepared amendments demanding a war declaration if U.S. troops in Vietnam passed the 500,000 mark or if U.S. bombing of North Vietnam continued.

But Mansfield's maneuvering forced a vote on his alternate amendment calling for negotiations to end the struggle and generally endorsing Johnson's policies. It passed 72 to 19.

Administration officials have long been felt to believe that a formal declaration of war would create obstacles for U.S. efforts to limit the war and gain a negotiated settlement.

The Constitution gives Congress the right to make a formal war declaration. But in the case of Vietnam, officials interpret congressional approval of the administration's Vietnam policy as sufficient authority to pursue the fighting.

As support for this reasoning the officials note the Senate in 1954 approved the Southeast Asian defense treaty 82 to 1. Then in August 1964, the Senate and House by combined votes of 512 to 2 adopted a resolution asserting U.S. readiness to use armed force if necessary to help South Vietnam in defense of its freedom.

Congress approved in 1965 a $700 million appropriation asked by Johnson to "persist in our efforts to halt Communist aggression in South Vietnam."

Officials say the President's right to commit U.S. troops to Vietnam comes from constitutional provisions which make him the commander in chief of armed forces. They argue that there have been more than 100 times when presidents have employed armed forces abroad without a war declaration.

Administration officials claim a war declaration would pose major complications to U.S. strategy, which is tailored to a limited objective and to prevent escalation.

Ode Maddox of Oden challenged the vote showing for Rep. J. H. Holland of Marion. It was discovered during the first ballot reread of the session that neither Hamilton nor Holland was in the chamber and Speaker Sterling R. Cockrill Jr. of Little Rock declared their votes invalid and ruled the bill failed.

Rural interests then threw their weight behind the compromise bill. They favor the bill in the Senate giving flat $500 raises each year but are willing to allow Rockefeller to decide between it and the compromise.

The training school proposal failed 42-48. Russell Baxter, director of the Arkansas Rehabilitation Service, and Welfare Commissioner A. J. Moss told the House the federal government had ordered desegregation of the schools by July 1 or the schools will lose federal funds. The state operates separate schools for Negro and white boys and Negro and white girls.

Rep. Paul Bates of Pine Bluff led the fight against the bill.

Rep. John Bethell of Des Arc said the present schools were satisfactory, but Rep. Doug Brandon of Little Rock said they would be less satisfactory if the state couldn't supply rehabilitation services.

The sacramental wine bill considered by the Senate would have the same penalties and prohibitions of the measure signed by Rockefeller but would exempt sacramental wine.

Sen. J. Ed Lightle of Searcy said the enacted measure was a "hypocrite's bill" and said 60 per cent of the senators would violate the law within two weeks.

House introductions included: — A bill to reschedule biennial sessions of the legislature by moving the starting date of actual legislative work from the first Monday in January to the first Monday in March.

— A bill to require the Publicity and Parks Commission to establish a state park on the Norfolk River below Norfolk Dan in Baxter.

In other action, the House: — Recalled from the Senate a bill to change the system of automobile registration after the Revenue Department advised the budget committee that the new system would cost an additional $2,000 a year to administer.

— Amended compulsory automobile registration bill by Rep. Charles Stewart of Fayetteville to take the teeth out of it and then allowed Stewart to withdraw it from further consideration.

— Amended the Highway Department appropriation bill to require that any hourly rate be paid the maximum wage for his classification after he has been on the job for 10 years.

— Passed a number of minor appropriation bills without debate.

has been made in the investigation of the New Orleans district attorney's office into the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

"Arrested this evening in the district attorney's office was Clay Shaw, age 54, of 1313 Dauphine St., New Orleans, La.

"Mr. Shaw will be charged with participation in a conspiracy to murder John F. Kennedy.

"It should be pointed out, however, that the nature of this case is not conducive to an immediate succession of arrests at this time. However, other arrests will be made at a later date."

The booking and the announcement did not specify whether Shaw was being charged with a conspiracy resulting in Kennedy's death — or with a conspiracy, not carried through, to commit the murder.

Asked about this, Garrison replied: "I don't want to get involved in semantics."

Governors Stuck in an Elevator

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The governors of Georgia and Alabama — experienced with legislative ups and downs — got stuck on an elevator.

It happened Tuesday after Alabama Gov. Lurleen Wallace and her husband, George, addressed the Georgia legislature.

Along with Georgia Gov. Lester G. Maddox and his entourage, they were on their way to a sixth-floor cafeteria on a freight elevator.

New Defense Director for Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The office of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller announced Wednesday that Everett E. Talburt of Bald Knob has replaced Steward K. Prosser of Conway as state civil defense director.

Talburt, 34, is a real estate broker at Bald Knob. He was regional director in the Greens Ferry region for the GOP during last year's election campaign.

Former Gov. Orval Faubus appointed Prosser to the $8,700-a-year post shortly after Prosser ran fourth in a five-man race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in 1956.

Legislature Can Draw Pay

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court ruled Wednesday that the General Assembly can legally extend its regular session and draw $20 per diem.

The ruling thus affirmed a decision of Pulaski Chancellor Murray Reed.

The ruling came on Act 85 of 1967 which appropriated $4,000 for legislator's expenses for a two-day extended session.

Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell had issued an opinion saying the state constitution prohibited per diem to lawmakers in an extended session.

"WHERE SERVICE FOLLOWS THE SALE"

TOM TIEDE IN VIETNAM

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

SAIGON, Vietnam—(N.E.A.)—The young man is a soldier. He was killed during an enemy ambush on a road near a highlands plantation. A bullet went through his steel helmet and into his head. He did not know it nor feel it. Now he is going home.

A silver-shelled C-130 transport plane flies him from the mountains to the city. He is carried in an airless plastic bag. He is handled respectfully. The trip is brief.

A dusty panel truck meets him at Tan Son Nhut Airbase and two crisp servicemen remove him from the aircraft and lift him gently into the rear of the truck.

Short ride later, the truck swings behind a lengthy, blue-green building finished in layers of wooden plank. It is the United States war morgue, the largest such facility operating anywhere in the world.

Three men dressed in faded blue tunics open the truck doors and withdraw the soldier. A few words of direction are given and he is carried through a swath of sunlight into the building.

Several passersby stop to watch. They are sunbanned in pressed khaki. They say nothing.

Inside the soldier is removed from his container and placed on a white porcelain table which is one of 17 anchored to the room's concrete floor by means of cylindrical supports.

Nine tables are in use. This is normal traffic. A dozen men move around the room. They are a portion of 106 officers, enlisted and civilian personnel who staff the building.

The attendants are clean and reserved. Levity is rare but normal conversation prevails. There is a general feeling of considerate respect. Signs on the walls read: "Hats off."

The men do not hurry, yet their work is done rapidly. The desire is to get dead soldiers home as rapidly as possible and therefore the average stay is less than 24 hours.

The highlands' GI is one of 20 moving through this day, one of 125 this week. And one of 500 American, Korean, Australian, New Zealand and Filipino soldiers handled through the morgue this month.

The young man, age 20, a private first class, is initially identified. His dogtags are checked against Army records, his face against an official photograph.

If he had been burned, his dental characteristics would be checked. His blood type or tissue are other checks in extreme cases.

There are no unknown soldiers in this war.

This GI is easily recognized. He passes quickly through.

He is embalmed professionally by a civilian specialist. The fluid used is designed for the hot and humid tropical climate. He is bathed and his wound sutured. He is dressed in a new green uniform.

Finally he is encased for shipment.

He is shrouded in a white sheet taped tightly around his body and clearly identified. Then he is placed in a plastic bag, the air of which is drawn off by vacuum seal.

The last step is placement in an 8-foot aluminum coffin.

Then he is moved to the airport.

And 48 hours after his death in this weary struggle, the young American soldier is on his way home.

REQUIRED LESSONS
LONDON (AP) — Canon John Pearce-Higgins, who refused to read a lesson from Revelation about Jezebel at a Southwark Cathedral service, because he considered it "blasphemous nonsense," may be in trouble with his bishop.

A Church of England spokesman said clergy were legally required to read the lessons set out in the Church Calendar and the case was being referred to Dr. Mervyn Stockwood, Bishop of Southwark. The canon, who is vice-provost (sub-dean) of the cathedral, substituted passages from famous writers against capital punishment for the New Testament lesson he should have read.

PRODUCER DIDN'T PAY FOR PARTY

NEW YORK (AP) — A revision in the ritual of opening-night celebration is being tried by producer Alexander H. Cohen.

Instead of charging off the costs of the traditional after-show party to the production, guests at the "Black Comedy" festivities were required to ante $35 per couple. Receipts in excess of expenses were earmarked for the Actors Fund, a principal theatrical charity.

Helena Bridge
Smallpox
Burton & Taylor

Senate Bill No. 181 to have the state government pick up one million dollars of bonded debt on Helena's toll-supported bridge across the Mississippi River was vetoed Tuesday by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

The governor did the only thing a right-minded chief executive could do in protecting the taxpayers of the entire state—an action this writer anticipated in this column a week or so ago.

In his veto message Rockefeller called S. B. 181 "philosophically and morally wrong" and added that the measure "would entice many local groups to undertake improvements upon a bond issue basis with the thought that after the improvements were constructed these people could go to the legislature and ask that the burden be transferred to all the taxpayers."

As we reported in our editorial attack the Helena bridge served no trans-state highway but was sought primarily in behalf of Helena's trade territory. Revenue bonds were sold on the strength of anticipated toll revenues from the bridge, and if the deal now seems burdensome to the Phillips county-seat town the state can't intervene without doing an injustice to all the taxpayers outside Helena's local trade area. The governor had no choice but to veto the "relief" bill.

The legislature erred in permitting the Helena bridge bill to be sent up to the governor's desk — but on the same Tuesday it acted wisely and courageously in knocking out an even more dangerous proposal.

The House defeated a provision in S. B. 319 which would have recognized religious objections to vaccination against smallpox. It is sacrilegious to even mention "religious" in the same sentence with one of the greatest scourges known to mankind.

There is no true issue here — just a sharp line dividing the ignorant from the informed. The informed know that before the discovery of vaccine smallpox ravaged Europe and Great Britain, killing thousands, disfiguring millions, and emptying the world's great cities as the populace fled before the plague.

It is impudent, therefore, to argue in the face of all medical science that simply because you hold a quaint personal opinion you have the right to intrude you or your children's unvaccinated persons upon the rest of society. Arkansas tolerated a lengthy court debate over this in the case of the Cude family of Mena — but the legislature did at once what the courts did finally... enforcing vaccination.

It is only fair to report that the same theatrical team which I ridiculed for their filthy and boring film production "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" has come up with a theatrical triumph.

Richard Burton and his wife, Elizabeth Taylor, premiered their new film "Taming of the Shrew" in London last week-end and the British critics raved over it.

Burton and Taylor are probably the best dramatic team in the English language today, and that they have done justice to Shakespeare's classic is something quite believable — just as their fiasco in "Woolf" is unbelievable.

Ouachita RVA Plans Meet

MONROE, La. (AP) — The Ouachita River Valley Association will hold its annual meeting here April 2 and 3, Paul Sullins of Crossett, Ark., said Wednesday. Sullins is president of the group.

Can Operate Ambulances

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The attorney general's office said Wednesday that cities and counties can maintain ambulance service.

The office issued an opinion saying there was no specific regulation on the matter but that such could be operated with public funds if no private ambulance service is available.

New Orleans Man Is Booked for Conspiracy to Murder in JFK Case School Aid Distribution Bill Passed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House approved the compromise school aid distribution bill Wednesday, but rejected a measure consolidating the state's four training schools despite the advice of welfare and rehabilitation officials.

The Senate failed, 14-10, to pass a bill making it lawful for Episcopal priests to administer sacramental wine to minors. The measure was an attempt to counteract a bill signed into law by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller that makes persons, including priests, subject to sentences of 50 years in prison for furnishing liquor to minors.

The school bill, defeated earlier this week, passed 73-20 on reconsideration. The measure would give each teacher a $500 salary increase during the first year of the next biennium and distribute salary money to school districts on a formula basis in the second year.

The bill passed moments after the House failed to pass on reconsideration a bill applying the formula in both years. Later, the representatives rushed to recall from the Senate a third salary bill giving each teacher a $500 raise in both years of the biennium.

The straight formula bill passed 51-43 Monday. During Wednesday's roll call, it appeared to have passed again 51-48. Rep. Harry Carter of Little Rock, however, challenged the vote showing on the roll call machine for Rep. Joe Hamilton of Harrison and Rep.

By 1975 Russia Will Have No More Cars Than U.S. Had in 1917

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP) — There's not a single gas station on the 100-mile road from Moscow to Kallinin and only one garage in the 428 miles to Minsk, says the CIA.

Even under the Kremlin's much-touted plan to boost car output, the Central Intelligence Agency says the Soviets by 1975 will have no more autos on the road than the United States did in 1917.

The CIA report came to light in a study issued today by the House International Trade subcommittee on the Fiat-Soviet auto plant and Communist economic reforms.

The Soviets are buying an $800-million Fiat manufacturing plant to increase their car production. The Italian firm wants to buy $50 million worth of U.S. machine tools for the deal. The House group under Rep. Thomas L. Ashley, D-Ohio, gave guarded endorsement Tuesday for such sales.

"The U.S.S.R. has only a toe-

By CHRIS ROBERTS

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Clay L. Shaw, wealthy retired director of the International Trade Mart, has been booked on a charge of "conspiracy to commit murder" in Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's first arrest in the Kennedy assassination investigation.

"There will be more arrests, a considerable number of them," said Garrison, who has been conducting a probe of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy for the past five months.

Shaw, 54, a decorated Army major in World War II, was released on $10,000 bond after his arrest Wednesday night. His luxurious French Quarter home was searched for nearly three hours by Garrison's agents.

The dozen men who made the search carried away five cardboard boxes filled with various items, including books and a gun in a canvas case — a rifle or shotgun.

Shaw is ruggedly handsome and silver-haired. He brushed past newsmen without a word when he was released from central lockup after being booked, fingerprinted and mugged.

He was arrested in Garrison's office, where he had appeared for questioning, in response to subpoena.

Garrison has vowed to prove that a conspiracy conceived in New Orleans "culminated in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy" in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

His claim contradicts the official report of the Warren Commission, which said Lee Harvey Oswald, a former New Orleans resident, shot the president — and that it found no credible evidence that any one else was involved.

The announcement of Shaw's arrest said: "The first arrest

Clubs Raided But Only One Arrest Made

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — One arrest was made Wednesday night as State Police and local authorities simultaneously raided seven private clubs and a drive-in in the first move on Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's declared war on illegal gambling.

Col. Herman Lindsey, State Police director, said gambling devices were found at only one place — the Cameo Club — and only one arrest was made.

Mrs. Thelma Page, identified as the proprietor of the club, was arrested on a charge of exhibiting gambling equipment, Sheriff Eugene Canada said.

Mrs. Page was released on a $500 bond.

At Little Rock, Lindsey said, "We are there and we are going to stay. In other words, they're not coming back tonight (Wednesday). We will... keep patrolling places."

"We will be there for an undetermined time... until we re-evaluate the situation."

State Police Maj. William C. Struening said a dismantled dice table, a "bird cage" and a quantity of dice, cards and cups of the type used in dice games was found at the Cameo Club.

Officers said no gambling devices were found in the raid that also included Cliff's Club, the White Crompt, the Citizen's Club, the Palms, the Oasis, the Bridge Club and the Ohio Club.

Lindsey said troopers obtained search warrants from Municipal Judge Earl Mazander Wednesday afternoon.

The search warrants were issued on State Police affidavits charging that there was gambling equipment in the eight establishments.

"We are pursuing our duties, consistent with definite legal procedure," said Lindsey.

Earlier, Lindsey said at a news conference that he had directed all State Troopers to act to shut down the alleged gambling and had not limited responsibility to the Criminal Investigation Division.

"It's kind of like getting ready for war," Lindsey told newsmen. "You prepare for the worse and hope for the best."

Hoffa Must Start Jail Term Tues.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Frank W. Wilson has ordered James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, to appear here Tuesday morning to begin serving an eight-year prison term for jury tampering.

Less than an hour before Wilson announced his decision Wednesday Hoffa designated Frank E. Fitzsimmons, general vice president of the union since last July, as his successor.

Wilson's move came after he denied Hoffa's request for continuance of his $75,000 bail pending disposition of a new trial motion. Attorneys for Hoffa, who took over the 1.8-million-member labor organization after Dave Beck, long time Teamsters president, was handed a 15-year sentence in 1958 for stealing union funds, said Wilson's order "more than likely" would be appealed.

However, when asked if the legal maneuver would again delay the start of Hoffa's sentence, P.D. Makos, an attorney of the union, replied: "I doubt it."

Hoffa, 54, who also was handed a $10,000 fine at the end of his trial here in 1964, would have to serve one-third of the eight-year term before becoming eligible for parole. And the federal Landrum-Griffin Act would prohibit him from holding further union office after his release.

Although Wilson did not refer to them, his bail ruling also meant that three of Hoffa's co-defendants would have to begin their sentences.

They are Ewing King of Nashville, former president of Teamsters Local 327; Thomas Ewing Parks, 49; a Nashville funeral home employee; and Larry Campbell, 42, business agent of Hoffa's home Local 299 in Detroit. Each was sentenced to three years.

A fourth defendant, Nashville lawyer Z. T. Osborn, who was tried separately and given a 3½-year term and a $5,000 fine, was granted a hearing on a new trial motion Tuesday, and is free on bail.

All of the convictions grew out of Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial in Nashville. The conspiracy case, involving the alleged collection of more than $1 million from an employer in violation of the Taft-Hartley law, ended in a mistrial when the jury was unable to agree upon a verdict.

Wilson still has made no ruling on the pending new trial motion — Hoffa's fourth — which was filed here Tuesday, one day after the U.S. Supreme Court refused to reconsider its rejection last Dec. 12 of a Hoffa appeal.

Surprised Bryant Took Such Action

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Legislative aides to Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller expressed surprise Wednesday that Secretary of State Kelly Bryant assigned a controversial municipal aid bill an act number.

A dispute arose over the bill, now Act 190 of 1967, between the governor and the Senate.

It centered over whether Rockefeller vetoed the bill within the 5-day period provide by law for him to consider bills passed by the General Assembly.

Rockefeller vetoed the bill Feb. 28. The Senate claims he got the measure Feb. 20 and the governor's aides say it was received Feb. 21. Sundays do not count in the 5-day period.

Tom Eisele, a Rockefeller aide, predicted that the act could be successfully attacked in the court. He said a decision on whether a suit would be filed would be made by the governor.

House Bars Powell But May Have Trouble Making Action Stick

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has barred Adam Clayton Powell, its most controversial and flamboyant figure — but may have trouble making the ban stick.

While the Harlem preacher relaxed at his Bahamian fishing retreat at Bimini, his attorneys termed Wednesday's action of the House "unconstitutional." They raised the threat of a federal court suit to overturn it.

The House itself may have to deal with the matter again, perhaps within two months. A special election will be held to fill Powell's seat and there is every likelihood he again will be elected to fill the post he has held 22 years.

"It will come back to haunt the House," said Rep. Emanuel Celler, the venerable New York Democrat, after the House rejected 222 to 202 the recommendation of his select committee to seat the Negro Democrat with a stiff censure, a $40,000 assessment and the loss of all seniority.

The action also rejected leadership from both parties, who had backed the committee action, and led to the final ouster 307 to 116.

"If I were representing Adam Clayton Powell," Celler told reporters, "I'd take the case to court right away. I think he's got a good case."

And Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr., the West Virginia Republican who fought alongside Celler for adoption of the censure proposal, referred reporters to his statement midway through the five-hour debate: "If we turn him out, his constituency will turn him back with an even greater majority."

The galleries were packed but orderly. Although Powell, 58, was absent, his lawyers were there. They listened intently but left when the outcome became clear.

Later, they issued a terse statement through Powell's office which said: "Within a few days an announcement will be made by or on behalf of Mr. Powell as to any future course of action."

The House floor was hushed during most of the debate, although at one point the hum of conversation rose so much that presiding Rep. Hugh L. Carey, D-N.Y., reminded members: "Gentlemen, we're voting on a matter involving decorum in the House — there is no decorum in the House."

Senators Vote Differently

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., voted with the majority Wednesday as the Senate passed 72-19 an amendment to the $4.5 billion Vietnam military authorization bill.

The amendment, by Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., promised full support for troops and efforts toward a peaceful settlement.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., voted against the amendment.

Cong Guns Score Hits on U.S. Ship

By JOHN T. WHEELER

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese shore batteries scored two hits on the U.S. guided missile cruiser Canberra during a ship-to-shore duel Wednesday, the U.S. command announced today, but the hits caused only light damage.

The American command said the shore batteries were silenced by fire from the Canberra's 8-inch guns and the 5-inch guns of two accompanying destroyers.

The two enemy rounds made only one half-inch hole in the Canberra's deck and did minor damage to some nearby life rafts, the Navy said. No American casualties were reported.

The three U.S. Navy ships were attacking a Communist battery of 57mm guns 15 miles north of Dong Hoi, the major port in the southern part of North Vietnam. U.S. shells from three other Navy ships came within one mile of Dong Hoi, the American command reported.

The Canberra is one of the U.S. Navy's two heavy cruisers which can fire supersonic guided missiles, but the missiles are designed to combat aircraft, not ground targets. The 17,500-ton Canberra is named for the Australian cruiser which was sunk with the Vincennes and the Quincy in the first battle of Savo Island on Aug. 9, 1942.

South of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam, Viet Cong mortarsmen kept up their attack on the big U.S. guns which began firing into the southern part of North Vietnam last week, but again no damage to the 175mm American cannon was reported.

The Viet Cong fired 180 mortar rounds at the U.S. Marines' big guns today, the U.S. command said, bringing the total enemy fire in the last three days against U.S. Marine positions just south of the demilitarized zone to more than 1,800 rounds. The mortar fire today came from within the demilitarized zone, the American command said.

In one attack Tuesday, a U.S. spokesman reported, the Communists fired about 1,000 mortar rounds which combined with infantry assaults inflicted heavy casualties on two Marine companies. Among the dead were a battalion commander and two company commanders.

The U.S. Command also announced a record number of Communist troops killed in combat last week, 2,332, and a record number of desertions to the South Vietnamese government, 1,108.

The total enemy dead reported by the Americans was somewhat less than the 2,461 reported by the South Vietnamese headquarters on Monday. But the reports of the two commands in this category rarely agree due to different verification methods.

105 Forest Fires in Co. Last Year

According to the State Forestry Commission records we had 105 fires last year, burning a total 1223 acres in this county. The Forestry department also suppressed 200 grass fires that destroyed approximately 2500 to 3000 acres.

It seems that debris and incendiary burning is still the leading causes of fires in this County.

Most of the debris burning occurred in March and April when there was a strong wind. It is urged that when burning brush and grass of any kind, please take necessary precaution to prevent these fires from escaping and causing wild fires.

Secret Use of Funds Old Custom

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's as old as man.

The House demanded to know about the secret use of government funds in foreign affairs. The President refused to explain. This wasn't President Lyndon B. Johnson. It was President James K. Polk 121 years ago.

Now the Central Intelligence Agency is criticized for secret financial help to U.S. groups, such as students, involved with similar groups overseas where this government tries to block Communist influence and takeovers.

It can be taken for granted that's only part of CIA's operations, that it spends millions in spies, bribes and subsidies. None of this is new.

Polk told Congress that under a law of 1810 he had the right, for the public, to say nothing about secret spending in foreign affairs if publicly would hurt the national interest. He said this was every nation's experience.

The very first Congress passed a law like that of 1810 in 1790 under the presidency of George Washington who, during the revolution, was up to his neck in espionage.

Some authorities think he was the sharpest man in this field in American history up until the time William J. Donovan became head of the Office of Strategic Services in World War II.

The shock of Pearl Harbor — the lack of coordinated and organized information which made the Japanese attack possible — produced OSS. In turn, CIA was a product of the cold war. Yet, the British and French had organized espionage since the 17th century.

Because most historians skip over spywork, all most Americans remember about espionage in the revolution is that Major John Andre, the British spy, and Nathan Hale, the American spy, were hanged.

But the British were good at it. During the revolution, when Benjamin Franklin went to Paris to line up the French on the American side, one of the advisors he considered a patriotic American was a well-paid British spy.

In the 1790's, when this country sent envoys to Paris to ward off war with the French, Talleyrand, the French foreign minister, refused to see them but sent in confidential agents who wanted a bribe of $250,000.

One authority on espionage in the Civil War recently ex-

Beauty Has Quit Campus at Berkley

EL CERRITO, Calif. (AP) — Maria Remenyi, "Miss U.S.A. 1966," and a gorgeous aspirant for a Ph.D. in physics, is deserting the University of California's Berkeley campus for Columbia University. The 21-year-old beauty says she is in love with New York City.

Maria, who dropped out as a Berkeley junior after winning her beauty title, says her decision to transfer to Columbia is a direct result of winning the contest.

"I made my first trip to New York then and fell in love with the city," Maria said in an interview during a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Remenyi.

"Every time I go back I like it better. So, I'm enrolling at Columbia."

A Hungarian-born brunette, Maria said her year as Miss U.S.A. "has given me the unusual opportunity to study human relations while adding about $10,000 to help finance the six more years of school ahead."

She said her social life has been limited because of the constant pressure of travel schedules, with a chaperone.

But Maria admitted she was impressed with Latin-American men in her travels in South America.

WHILE YOUNGSTERS ENJOY the fun of ice skating, exposure to wintry weather for long periods can cause windburn and chapped skin. Before gliding on the rink, liberally rub on exposed areas of the face and hands an antiseptic first-aid cream. This soothing preventive measure will eliminate dry, chapped or wind-burned skin and the pain of discomfort that comes with injured tissues.

pressed the belief that the Union side alone had about 4,200 spies. In his special war message to Congress in 1917 President Woodrow Wilson said the Germans had already so saturated this country with their spies "they could never be our friends."

But spies, bribes and informers go away back. The Bible had its share. Judas, for informing on Jesus, got 30 pieces of silver. When Samson gave the Philistines the miseries, they promised Delilah 1,100 pieces of silver for finding out where his strength lay. She discovered it was in his hair and when he went to sleep she brought in a man to cut it off.

Machiavelli made a name for himself with his 16th century study, the prince, on how, including dirty tricks, an ambitious man could take power. But 1,800 years before that, in India, Kautilya wrote a similar but not so well known book.

It was even more detailed than Machiavelli's, with all kinds of dirty tricks spelled out. It wasn't translated into English until about 1900.

Napoleon had one of the best spies in history, Karl Schulmeister, who got well paid for pretending to the Austrians he was all on their side and then conning them into attacking the French at Ulm, at the wrong time.

The Romans were said to have used carrier pigeons and swallows for sending secret information. Greek history is full of double-dealing. Historian J. B. Bury, writing of the Greeks in decline, says public opinion thought no worse of a man for taking a bribe from a foreign

Mansfield Acts to Gain War Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield moved today to unite the Senate behind a declaration of support for U.S. troops in Vietnam and for administration efforts to bring an end to the war there.

By fast parliamentary footwork, Mansfield got his proposal in for a vote ahead of various measures backed by the small band of senators who are outspoken against administration war policies.

The Senate plans to begin voting today on various riders to a $4.5 billion military authorization bill which has been under debate for a week.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., had expected to get an initial test on his proposal to put Congress on record in favor of requiring a declaration of war if bombing of North Vietnam is continued or troops commitments go above 500,000.

Clark stayed late in the Senate "Tuesday" night to make a speech in favor of his measure and to call it up formally so that it would be the first order of business today.

But Mansfield waited, too. When Clark had finished, he immediately offered his own proposal as a substitute for Clark's.

Glorify Lamb with Spring Vegetables

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Spring lamb, either as a crown roast or a roast leg, is a traditional Easter choice in many families. They usually serve it with spring carrots, onions, new potatoes and fresh asparagus to complete a perfect Easter festive dinner.

ROSEMARY LAMB WITH SPRING VEGETABLES

- 6 pounds leg of lamb
- 1 teaspoon rosemary leaves
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1 carrot, sliced
- 1 rib celery, chopped
- 2 green onions, including tops, chopped
- 12 small-sized new potatoes
- 12 carrots
- 12 white onions
- 4 tablespoons flour
- 1/4 cup water

Trim excess fat and skin from lamb. Crumble rosemary fine and mix 1/2-teaspoon with 2-teaspoons salt and black pepper. Rub over surface of lamb. Place carrot, celery, onions and 1 cup of water in roasting pan. Place lamb over vegetables. Roast, uncovered, in preheated slow oven (325 degrees) 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Meanwhile, peel potatoes, carrots and onions. Parboil in covered saucepan 15 minutes or until vegetables are partially done in boiling, salted water to cover. Lift out of water and place in roasting pan around lamb.

Continue cooking, uncovered, 1 to 1 1/2 hours or until meat and vegetables are tender, basting vegetables with pan liquid 3 to 4 times. Remove meat to serving platter; arrange vegetables around meat. Keep warm while making gravy.

If there is excess fat on pan liquid, skim it off. Add 1 1/4 cups water, mix well and strain. Blend flour with remaining 1/2-teaspoon rosemary and 1/4-cup water. Add to gravy. Bring to boiling point and cook until slightly thickened. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Serve with fresh peas and asparagus. Six to 8 servings.

Similarity Same in Many Ways

By DON BANDY
CINCINNATI (AP) — There's enough similarity in the names Robertson and Roberson that basketball fans around here confuse them. But the similarity doesn't end there.

Not since the great Oscar Robertson — the Big O — has a sophomore led the University of Cincinnati basketball team in scoring and rebounding. That was 10 years ago.

But Rick Roberson from Memphis, Tenn., is likely to achieve that distinction this season.

With one game remaining, the 6-foot-9, 230-pound sophomore center has averaged 14.5 points and 12.4 rebounds a game.

"He has the potential to be one of the best centers the University of Cincinnati has ever had," says Coach Tay Baker. Roberson has been the spark-plug in Cincinnati's 16-9 record in a pressure-packed campaign. Cincy has had eight one-point games and five overtime contests.

The Bearcats close the regular season Friday night against cross-town rival Xavier University.

Roberson, who missed two early games because of a sprained ankle, was initiated by some of the top big men in the country. He's battled St. Louis' Rich Niemann (7-0) and Drake's Bob Netolicky (6-9) for honors as the Missouri Valley Conference's No. 2 rebounder behind Louisville's All-America Westley Unseld (6-8).

Roberson's scoring statistics are more impressive in light of Cincinnati's controlled offense and that balanced scoring is stressed.

"We don't feed Rick and we stress defense, which may mean that his scoring average is not as high as a lot of other big men," said Baker.

But on defense, Roberson is the center of action. In 23 games he has blocked 61 enemy shots and many others went astray because of his hand high in the air.

Many Hope to Be Invited to Wedding

By MARGARET SCHERF
CHICAGO (AP) — Many prominent persons were hoping today to receive one of the cream-colored, engraved-by-Tiffany tickets to 1967's wedding of the year.

Some 2,000 invitations to the April 1 wedding of Sharon Percy and John D. Rockefeller IV are in the mail.

Not since Luci Johnson and Patrick Nugent announced their engagement has a young couple's marital plans aroused so much interest.

Like the President's daughter, Sharon has expressed the hope that she and her fiancé will be treated "just like any other couple."

Her wish is as unlikely to be granted as was Luci's.

"Instead of his and hers seats at the wedding, they'll have to have Democrats and Republicans," one of Sharon's friends said when the engagement was announced Nov. 29.

Rockefeller, 29, nephew of Republican Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas, recently was elected to the West Virginia Legislature as a Democrat.

Sharon, 21, whose father, Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois, is mentioned as a possible Republican contender for the presidency, says she has become a Democrat since her engagement.

"Love takes precedence over politics," her father commented when told of the switch.

A slender, wide-eyed extrovert with long, wheat-colored hair, Sharon presents striking contrast to Rockefeller, 6-foot-6 1/2 inches tall and darkly handsome with brown hair and green eyes.

"She's an activist by nature," Rockefeller has said of his fiancée.

Sharon chose the University of Chicago's Rockefeller Chapel for her wedding.

Her father is a graduate of the university and a board member. Rockefeller's great-grandfather provided the funds to found the university and to build the nondenominational chapel, dedicated in 1928.

Sharon will walk a 265-foot-long aisle to the altar, past 51 pews in which the 2,000 guests will be seated.

Because the Christian Science denomination, of which the Percys are members, has no set marriage service, the Episcopal Book of Common Prayer will be used. An organ and choir will furnish music.

A reception immediately after the wedding will be held in Ida Noyes Hall, a student center resembling an English Tudor manor house, across the street from the chapel.

NEW STAMP commemorating the 100th anniversary of the National Grange will be issued April 17 at Washington, D.C., during National Grange Week. The five-color five-cent stamp simulates a poster of the type the grange once distributed to recruit members to this major farmers' organization.

Many Are Indicted in Mississippi

By JOHN PEARCE
MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP) — A Mississippi Ku Klux Klan leader has been added to the list of those the federal government contends were involved in the slaying of three civil rights workers near Philadelphia, Miss.

Sam Bowers Jr., a Laurel coin machine distributor, was one of 19 men charged Tuesday on a federal conspiracy indictment.

Bowers, whom the FBI says is the Imperial Wizard of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan — the most violent and most clandestine of the various Klan groups — had not previously been named in the Philadelphia case.

He was, however, indicted last year in the Vernon Dahmer firebombing death at Hattiesburg.

The federal grand jury which returned new indictments in the Philadelphia case also reconsidered the Dahmer case.

U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox of Jackson said indictments were returned in the Dahmer case when the grand jury session ended at Jackson Monday.

A federal source said these would be disclosed today at Hattiesburg.

Of the 18 arrested at Meridian in the Philadelphia case, 16 — including Neshoba County Sheriff Lawrence Rainey, 43, and his chief deputy, Cecil Price, 28 — had been previously indicted or federal charges in connection with the slayings.

All 18 surrendered and each posted a $5,000 bond.

The first indictments, obtained in January 1965, were dismissed last year on grounds of improper composition of the grand jury.

Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 20, both white New Yorkers, disappeared with James Chaney, 21, a Meridian Negro, June 21, 1964, shortly after Price released them from jail at Philadelphia.

They had gone to investigate the burning of a Negro church near Philadelphia. Several days later their burned station wagon was found, hidden in dense undergrowth at the edge of a swamp.

The bodies of the three were found two months later beneath a freshly built earthen dam. All three had been shot.

"It was a part of the plan and purpose of the conspiracy," the new indictment charged, for Price to release the three from jail at such time that he and eight other defendants "could and would intercept... (them) ... and threaten, assault, shoot and kill them."

The eight others named in the indictment were Jimmy Arledge, 29, Meridian; Horace Doyle Barnette, 28, Cullum, La., formerly of Meridian; Travis Maryn Barnette, 38, Meridian; Jimmy Snowden, 33, Meridian; James Edward Jordan, 40, formerly of Gulfport; Billy Wayne Posey, 30, Meridian; and Jerry McGrew Sharp, 24, Philadelphia.

Jordan, the 19th man, was not arrested here Tuesday. He became one of the FBI's key informants in the case and now is living somewhere in Florida.

A Relaxed SMU Has an Easy Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southern Methodist, relaxed and unbound since it clinched the Southwest Conference basketball championship ahead of time with some hair-raising finishes, easily trounced Texas A&M 85-71 Tuesday night.

It not only broke a home-court jinx but kept the Methodists three games ahead with only one to play. Not since 1960 had SMU beaten the Aggies at College Station although winning or sharing three championships in a row.

Texas Christian continued to slump in the stretch, taking an 88-79 licking from Texas. That boosted Texas into second place and dropped the Frogs into a third place tie with Baylor, which took Rice into camp 73-68.

Texas Tech thumped Arkansas 73-59 and pulled into undisputed fifth place.

The campaign grinds to a close Thursday night with Texas meeting SMU at Dallas, TCU host to Texas A&M, Baylor and Arkansas clashing at Fayetteville and Texas Tech winding up against Rice at Houston.
